Why study Media Studies abroad?

To compete in an ever-globalizing, competitive job market, no college education is complete without the skills and experiences that studying abroad can offer. International education and experiences bring academic variety and challenges, personal growth, and professional and networking opportunities to the table.

"Being able to learn abroad within my major, Media Studies, opened up opportunities for me that I hadn’t even realized were there. I got to take classes from local experts and see through a new lens of my field that was different culturally and politically. I also had the experience of working in a public relations firm in Prague and gained experience not just in PR, but in the Czech professional world as well.

- Raye Leonard, TU ’16
